

OKLAHOMA'S BERMUDA TRIANGLE

MYSTERIES OF BEAVER DUNES PARK

BY PAUL DALE ROBERTS, HALO PARANORMAL INVESTIGATIONS

My uncle, George Roberts, was born and raised in the town of Lehigh, Oklahoma. As a little boy, he heard many stories about Beaver Dunes Park in Beaver County, Oklahoma. George says that this place is also known as “Oklahoma’s Bermuda Triangle” or the “Shaman’s Portal” as a result of all the mysterious disappearances that have occurred there over the years.

Legend has it that Spanish explorers witnessed their friends vanishing into flashes of green light in the 1500s. The native Americans warned the Spanish explorers to stay out of this forbidden area, but the explorers didn’t listen. Some of those explorers disappeared, never to be seen again.

Locals say there is a portal and people are transported to an alternate dimension within the dunes.

Spanish explorer Francisco Vázquez de Coronado’s journal cites three of his men disappearing into flashes of green light while exploring the land. Locals also mention that a UFO once crashed in this area.

Beaver Dunes Park is a lot like the Zone of Silence in Mexico. George says when he visited this park, he did see green flashing lights off in the distance. He avoided the lights, not wanting to become another missing person.

Mystery in the Dunes: Paranormal Portals

Paranormal experimenter Jonathan Willows believes that the portal at Beaver Dunes Park must extend to Provincetown, MA, because the Black Flash (aka the “Devil of the Dunes” and “Provincetown Phantom”) came through the portal and was wandering around Beaver Dunes Park. Provincetown and Beaver Dunes Park both have dunes, and Jonathan — who once lived in Massachusetts — says that he encountered a giant about 10 feet tall during his visit to Beaver Dunes Park.

The giant, who was dressed all in black and had piercing blue eyes, leaped down from a tree and startled Jonathan. Jonathan’s story is similar to a girl named Miss Costa.

Beaver Dunes Park, is infamous for mysterious disappearances, UFO sightings, and encounters with cryptids and paranormal phenomena.

Miss Costa says: “On one October night, I was walking by the Town Hall and from out of the bushes an inhumanly tall figure dressed all in black jumped out in front of me. He had glowing blue eyes, big silver ears, and the ability to jump like a gazelle.”

Jonathan said that the creature he encountered took several long leaps and then vanished, as he related this story to my uncle George.

When George visited the park, he met Edward Steiner from Pierre, South Dakota. Edward said there is definitely a portal at Beaver Dunes Park, because he either saw an eight-foot shadow person or he came across Walking Sam, who is a local legend in South Dakota. Walking Sam reportedly lives in the caverns of Wind Cave National Park and comes out at night to scare people. Legend has it that he collects souls.

But, here we go again, we have a strange cryptid from another park that may be teleporting from Wind Cave National Park to Beaver Dunes Park via a wormhole or portal.

Native Legends, Cryptids, and UFO Encounters

Some Native Americans from the Beaver Dunes Park area also believe that the portal sends over a cryptid called the Miniwashitu, which can be found in North Dakota. A native American tribesman at Beaver Dunes Park was said to have gone crazy when he encountered the Miniwashitu. He had a severe nervous breakdown and passed out. After a week, he was back to normal.

Oklahoma native Americans report that the Miniwashitu is a dreadful beast. Descriptions say that it has red hair like a buffalo and one eye like a cyclops. That one eye is centered on its forehead, and above its eye, a horn sticks out. Its backbone stands out, because it is notched and jagged like an enormous saw.

From all of the stories about Beaver Dunes Park, I would say this place needs a thorough scientific investigation. I believe that portals or wormholes are located all over this world and may be the root cause of many human disappearances.

Beaver Dunes Park is also a hotbed of UFO activity. Some hikers have encountered wild animals that look like they were operated on with a laser. This is truly a place of high strangeness. ♦

ARIEL SCHOOL

FALCON LAKE

PASCAGOULA

RENDLESHAM FOREST

MARIO WOODS